TONOPAH RETURNS FROM OATMAN TRIP

TELLS OF CONDITIONS PREVAILING IN THE ARIZONA MINING DISTRICT

Ralph Wardle has returned from Oatman, where he spent two weeks investigating conditions in this old-new mining camp. He says:

"The town is overbuilt and business is overdone. It will require years for the developments in the mine to catch up with the town. That is all I can tell you unfavorable regarding Oatman. In all other respects it pleased me.

"This is not, as some may be led to believe, a new camp. It has been in existence for many years. The Tom Reed and Gold Roads mines are both equipped with mills and have paid dividends. What caused the present excitement was the taking over by F. A. Keith, Seely Mudd and J. C. Jackling of the control of the United Eastern, they purchasing 400,000 shares for ten cents. The stock is now worth more than $4 a share. They sunk a shaft on the endline of the Tom Reed and found the ore. They have it opened up and blocked out on the third, fourth, fifth and sixth levels.

The veins in the camp are huge and there is a network of them cropping, but, except in rare instances, the rock is low grade milling. While the veins crop, they are not poor men's propositions, but heavy money is needed for development. None of them has yet paid from the grassroots.

"The people in the district are highly optimistic and have good reason for being so, if they can hold out until development work catches up with the town. There are 650 miners working and about twice that number out in the hills either prospecting or developing on their own account. It is extremely hot down there and the jitney is in almost universal use. The hills are 'lousy' with Ford's, while there are a number of the highest priced cars in use. Great efficiency can be gotten out of gasoline at that low altitude. Oatman being only about 400 feet above the sea.

"I ran across a number of Nevada people, particularly from Tonopah and Goldfield. Some of them are doing very well. The accommodations are excellent. I was so pleased with what I saw that I expect to return later."

GRAND MASTER OF ODD FELLOWSHIP IN TOWN

WILL PAY OFFICIAL VISIT THIS EVENING TO BELMONT LODGE NUMBER 24

Chas. B. Koppler, grand master of the Odd Fellows of the state of Nevada is in Tonopah on an official visit to Belmont lodge No. 24. This evening at the Odd Fellows' hall a very pleasant evening is promised by those in charge and by the ever ready helpers, the Rebeccas.

RICH SAMPLES CAUSE EXCITEMENT AT YERRINGTON

Considerable excitement was aroused in the vicinity of the Pioneer stables Wednesday morning when Charles Davis, who arrived in town Tuesday night from somewhere in the hills, opened his bag of samples and displayed his find, says the Yerrington Times. Davis crushed numerous small pieces and panned them, disclosing a fine showing of free gold in every instance. There were many pieces in which the gold could be readily seen with the naked eye. Davis has been waiting all winter to get to this property, and was only able to get there Tuesday, and at that considered himself lucky. The snow was from fifteen to twenty feet deep in the gulches. His property happened to be on the south side of the mountain, and was the only place from which the snow had disappeared.

BUSINESS IS GOOD

♦ Owing to the increasing activity and interest in Tonopah stocks, it has been found necessary to increase the telephone service in the office of H. E. Epstein. In order to give his clients prompt and satisfactory telephone service, Mr. Epstein has had installed an additional telephone in his office. Call either 772 or 1262 for the latest quotation and sales. Adv. M1618

REGISTRATION FOR ELECTION TRUSTEES

FIRST TO ENROLL NOT A WOMAN, AS HAD BEEN FULLY EXPECTED

Registration for election of two school trustees, to be held Saturday, April 1, began this morning in the offices of the National Realty and Investment company. Mrs. McLaughlin is officiating as registrar. It was expected that a woman would be the first to enroll and that there would be a scramble for first place, but at seven minutes past nine, when a Bonanza reporter appeared on the scene, the pages were white and unwritten, so he took the honor himself.

One does not need to tell his age nor his politics in order to register. Whether this is or is not a concession to the ladies, the deponent wot-teth not. He, or she, must merely give his or her full name, place of birth and last residence before coming to Nevada. It is all very easy and there is no embarrassment.

The registration office will be open from 9 to 12, from 1 to 5 and from 7 to 8 today, Thursday, Friday and Saturday. The office may also be open next Sunday, but that is not yet decided and intending voters are advised not to delay.

Voters who are on the great register at the latest election are qualified for the school election, but those who are not registered, and that means you women folk, must enroll or be denied the privilege of voting on All Fools' day.

CHOOSING JURY IN THE TOGNONI CASE

TWO LADIES IN THE JURY BOX AFTER BUT TWO CHALLENGES EXERCISED

The case of the State of Nevada versus Joseph Tognoni, Jr., of Duckwater, on the charge of assault with intent to kill W. F. Mendes, came up for trial this morning in the district court before the Goldfield judge, whom it will be remembered, sentenced W. W. Booth to six months in jail for gross misdemeanor, when he was tried on the charge of criminal libel.

At 2:45 this afternoon the jury box was filled, with two peremptory challenges, one for each side, remaining. These are two ladies, Miss Bessie Shields and Miss Emma Steen, on the jury. Judge Wm. Forman is defending the case.

Judge Averill is disqualified in this case, hence his absence from the bench.

DISEASE SPREADERS COMING

A band of gypsies were encamped last night at Summit springs and will probably reach Crow springs tonight. They are making their way toward Tonopah. This is believed to be the same band that is afflicted with scarlet fever and which caused an epidemic at Winnemucca. Since that time they have been warned away from a number of towns. Tonopah officials are expected to do likewise here. They are said to be typical nomads, living off the country. A number of children are in the party. The men claim to be horse traders and the women practice fortune telling and mendicancy.

AMUSEMENTS

BUTLER THEATER

The attraction at the Butler this evening will be a Kleine-Edison feature entitled "Wild Oats," and extraordinary drama of youth and folly in five acts, with Malcolm Duncan and Alma Hanlon in the leading roles.

It is the story of Roy Wilson, a youth who lives too fast, owing debts to Graham Madison, an architect of doubtful morals and forming an attachment for Madison's mistress, Cleo, thus involving himself still deeper with Madison, who is a competitor of Roy's father. Both architects bid for a railroad contract, and Madison compels Roy to steal his father's bid.

Roy continues to travel the fast pace with Cleo, of whom Madison, having gained his end, has tired, and when she fancies an expensive necklace, Roy rifles the family safe to buy it for her. Circumstantial evidence points to Carew, Wilson's chief engineer. After the theft, Roy comes to Cleo and offers her the spoils of his shame, but she sends him home and he arrives in time to clear Carew by confessing to the theft himself. The preliminary reel will be a Pathe comedy.

Tomorrow, Pathe Weekly, and "The Grey Mask," featuring Edwin Arden and Barbara Tennant, in a remarkable detective story by Charles Wadsworth Camp, which came out in Colliers Weekly.

ROAD BUILDER FROM MILLS

The Floriston paper mills near Tahoe have been a source of trouble to the state officials on account of the waste material which contaminates the river water. Prof. S. C. Dinmore, director of the state pure food laboratories at Reno, has discovered among other uses for the waste product, that it makes an excellent road surface when evaporated to a thick product. The surfacing was spread on a Reno tennis court and is reported to be the best material that has been found. The product will make a cheap and efficient road builder, according to Professor Dinmore.

IMPROVING THE MILL

The Nevada-Douglas mine in Lyon county is shipping three cars of high grade ore per week that runs from 15 to 25 per cent. The mill has been shut down for the present, and fifty men are at work installing finer crushing machinery. It is the contention of the officials that greater efficiency and a greater tonnage capacity can be had by a finer grinding of the ore.
